English 094: Reading, Discussing and Writing

Course Description:

This is a fundamental course in understanding the ideas of others as well as expressing one's own. This course provides instruction in reading, discussion, and writing skills, which develop thinking and ideas. Through participating in the three processes, students will come to understand how one supports the other, and how clear and directed thinking depends upon them. This course is preparation for ENG K100, ENG K101, and other courses which require critical thinking and the communication of ideas. Emphasis is placed on strategies for improved reading and writing, comprehension skills, vocabulary, paragraph and essay development, grammar, and summarizing. Classroom readings will cover a wide variety of topics in addition to those included in the text. The use of a word processing program as an editing tool will also be introduced and developed. In addition, we will be learning how to work in groups for editing practice and how to use common proofing symbols appropriately.

Outcomes to be achieved:

According to the guidelines set forth by Three Rivers Community College, the following outcomes are to be achieved as indicated by a passing grade in English 094:

- 1) The ability to synthesize the processes of reading, discussing, and writing to articulate ideas clearly
- 2) The ability to demonstrate proficiency in literal reading comprehension skills and a growing ability to use inferential skills
- 3) The ability to employ an increased reading and speaking vocabulary
- 4) The ability to write responses effectively both in paragraph and short essay format based on ideas garnered from reading and discussing
- 5) The ability to employ strategies for effective editing
- The ability to summarize readings typically assigned in college level classes 6)
- 7) The ability to participate actively and effectively in group discussions

Texts:

Required:

A Community of Readers: A Thematic Approach to Writing By Roberta Alexander and Jan Lombardi The Writer's Reference, most recent edition By Diane Hacker A college-level dictionary

Materials:

Required:

Loose leaf notebook for notes, in-class writings and editing log At least one floppy disk

Attendance and Grading:

Attendance- I will not be checking attendance in every class. However, we will have either graded in-class writings or a quiz every day. Also, because many of the ideas for out-of-class writings will be discussed in detail during class, it is to your advantage to attend regularly. One or two missed class will not result in any kind of grading penalty, but excessive absences (more than three) will impact your work negatively. Attendance grades will be calculated through a combination of missed quizzes and missed in class writings.

Grading- Your final grade in this class will be an A, B, C, D, or F. In terms of the breakdown of how assignments will be weighted, this course is very flexible. The categories below indicate all the criteria on which you will be graded. The weight that is assigned to each one is up to the class as a whole. There are only four limitations: 1) the point totals for in-class writings and the weekly quiz are not changeable, 2) no category can be worth less than 50 points, 3) fractional totals or those not rounded to the nearest ten points are not acceptable, and 4) the total number of points must equal 500. Please remember that if one category is given fewer points, then another category must be weighted more heavily.

Out-of-class short essays (4)		points
In class writing (15)	75	points
Weekly quiz (15)75	points
Midterm and final exam	points
Participation and attendance		points

Letter grades are then generated at the end of the term based on a strict percentage scale. Grades with an attached "+" or "-" will be given for those point totals which fall within the top or bottom 2% of each grade category (there is no "A+"). For example, a student with 430 points would receive a straight "B" grade. A different student, who had accumulated only 410 points, would receive a "B-" (410= the lowest 2% of the "B" category or .82x500=410).

A=	450-500 points
B=	400-450 points
C=	350-400 points
NC=	below 350 points

Editing Log:

One project that will be ongoing throughout the course of the semester is your editing log. We will be discussing this when we begin work on the first essay. Basically, it will be a central place where you take notes on what areas you would like to target, reactions to peer editing groups, and any specific editing/proofing strategies that you find useful.

Using Computers:

It is highly recommended that you use a computer in the writing process (either your personal machine or one on the campus), as it will greatly reduce the time you spend on revision. ALWAYS save your work to YOUR OWN floppy disk!! Try to get into the habit of using a word processing program when you initially compose your work. It will make revisions more convenient, and it will also give you experience using the technology. Computer spell-checks and grammar checks are a good place to start when it comes to editing and proofing, but they are also notoriously fallible! All papers should be proofed thoroughly by a human! Take advantage of the services offered in the Three Rivers Community College Writing Center if you are not confident with your own proofing or revising abilities; you can come in for a face-to-face appointment or submit drafts via e-mail to TRWritingCenter@trcc.commet.edu

Plagiarism:

Plagiarism is the unacknowledged use of another person's words or ideas in your writing. Conscious plagiarism is an unacceptable academic behavior that will result in a "0" on the assignment in question. Any repeated offense will result in a NC grade for the course. Plagiarism by omission or "unconscious" plagiarism will be dealt with on a case-by-case basis.

Withdrawal Policy

Any student who finds it necessary to discontinue a course once class has met must provide written notice to the registrar. Withdrawal forms are available at the Registrar's office on the Thames and Mohegan sites. No punitive W grades are assigned to any withdrawal requested before the unrestricted withdrawal deadline for the semester. Withdrawal requests received after this deadline must bear the signature of the instructor. No withdrawals are permitted after the last class preceding the final exam. Students who do not obtain an official withdrawal, but simply stop attending classes, run the risk of receiving a NC grade for the course

Students with Disabilities

If you have a hidden or visible disability that may require special accommodations, please see me as soon as possible. If you have not already done so, please be sure to register with Chris Scarborough in order to find out what services are available for you.

Revisions to the Syllabus:

The information contained in the syllabus is subject to revision at my discretion. I will inform the class of any changes that are made. If you miss a class, check with a classmate upon your return to verify that you have the most up-to-date information.
