ENG K102 Literature and Composition

ONLINE

Instructor: Talvi Ansel

Instructor contact: through Messages in Blackboard

Syllabus

Important Notes: you will need to log in to the Blackboard website for this course frequently. Announcements will be posted on the main entry page, but you will also need to check the schedule and assignments notifications under Course Content. Print a copy of this syllabus so that you will have an extra copy on hand.

Course Description

Students are taught how to read serious literature, how to develop an interpretation, and how to explain and support their ideas in writing. Through the study of selected works of fiction, poetry, and drama, students are expected to learn the traditional elements of textual analysis and become familiar with the ways in which other critical approaches affect interpretation. In addition to continued instruction in composition, students are required to read continually and write frequently in preparation for every class.

Online Delivery

For this course, you must have frequent access to a networked computer to successfully navigate the class. We meet here, on Blackboard: you will need to use Blackboard to submit assignments, participate in discussion, upload and download files, use attachments, complete tests, access links to websites, and send messages. If you will not be able to access our Blackboard site a few times a week for a substantial amount of time, you should not be taking this online class. A mobile devise (such as a SmartPhone) is not sufficient; you need to have access to a reliable, networked computer.

To successfully participate in an online course, you need to be extremely diligent about meeting deadlines. Assignments are posted to give you a reasonable amount of time to complete the work; it is your responsibility to complete the work and have access to a computer in order to meet the deadlines.

Required Texts

The Bedford Introduction to Literature. 11th. edition. Ed. Michael Meyer. The book for this class has been ordered through the bookstore at Three Rivers Community College; feel free to order it at the bookstore of your choice—as long as you have it in time for the first assignments, and have purchased the 11th edition.

We will also occasionally be reading online materials & scanned materials available through Blackboard (location, websites will be announced by instructor.)

(fall 2016)

ENG 102 Course Outcomes

Upon successful completion of ENG 102, students should be able to:

- Identify the literary genres of poetry, fiction, and drama, and some of the forms and structures within those genres.
- Use the basic elements of formalist criticism to analyze a work of literature. These elements include such things as theme, tone, point of view, characterization, and figurative language.
- Identify and employ other critical strategies beyond formalism to analyze literature, including some of the following: psychological, feminist, new historical, cultural, Marxist, post-colonial, reader response.
- Articulate in both classroom discussion and written assignments their perspectives about both meaning and structure in a work of literature, and support their perspectives with specifics from the text.
- Provide evidence of effective writing strategies including planning, revision, proofreading, and reflection on writing choices
- Write analytical, evaluative academic essays about literature which present interpretations and support them with evidence from texts.
- Use MLA citation to document references to texts.
- Locate, evaluate, and incorporate research from valid secondary sources in their academic essays.

Short Assignments / Discussion forums

These short written assignments are designed to enrich the reading experience. Assignments will be announced in the appropriate Modules as the semester progresses. Late work will not be given credit. Discussion postings and short assignments will be assigned a point value. Percentage of points will determine grade. Online Discussions and Assignments require standard written English.

Completing the Discussions and Short Assignments will take considerable preparation and reading before you are ready to post your answers online. Be sure to look ahead on the schedule and give yourself several days in advance of the posting deadline to complete assignments.

Essays

3 formal essays based on the readings. The essays are to be typed and to follow MLA format and be saved and posted as a Word Document (Docx). You must submit links / copies of your sources with the essays. Topics to be announced (t.b.a.)

Essay #1: 4-6 pages. Assignment includes a polished first draft submitted for peer review, a post-write and / or reflection, and a final revised essay submitted for a grade.

Essay #2: 6-8 pages. Assignment includes a polished draft for peer review, a post-write and / or a reflection, and a final essay submitted for a grade.

Essay #3: 6-8 pages. Assignment includes a post-write and /or reflection, and a polished essay for grade.

Essays will be graded on purpose and thesis, organization and structure, development of ideas, diction and grammar, and documentation. If you miss a peer review (assigned a point value under Assignments) deadline, you cannot make up this process, and the missing work will negatively affect your grade.

You may revise essays 1 & 2 if you receive a grade lower than a C and you participated in the peer review: please contact me before revising. All revisions must be completed ten days after the graded essays are initially returned to you. Late essays may not be revised. Essay #3 may not be revised.

Please feel free to use the resources of the Writing Center through T.A.S.C. (Tutoring and Academic Success Centers located in C-117 at Three Rivers; and at trwritingcenter@trcc.commnet.edu). However, all work that you submit for this class must be your own original work.

Tests

2 tests will be given during the semester. The tests will cover the readings and literary terms. In order to do well on the tests, it is necessary that you do all of the readings and participate in discussions. Tests will be timed and due by a specific deadline.

Assignment Deadlines

IT IS ESSENTIAL THAT YOU REGULARLY CHECK MODULES FOR DEADLINES.

Plan ahead: an online class requires rigor, discipline, and planning; it is wise to set your own personal deadline well ahead of the actual deadline—that way you won't run into any last minute computer problems. (Not being able to get online is not an acceptable excuse for turning in work late; also, the discussions, and your fellow class members, suffer if everyone is trying to post their work at the last minute).

Due dates each week will normally be on Mondays and / or Thursdays by noon. There may be exceptions around holidays, so always be sure to check the Schedule and read Assignments in the Modules thoroughly. Consider setting your own personal deadline well before the actual due date to avoid last-minute problems that may prevent you from submitting your work on time. Directions for assignments will normally be available a week before the due date.

The college has set a scheduled maintenance time for Blackboard: Fridays from 2 a.m. to 6 a.m. You will not be able to access Blackboard at this time, please plan your schedule accordingly.

Work can be submitted as soon as the Module for that particular assignment is open and all prerequisite work is ready.

Late Work

In an online class, you are responsible for submitting your work on time; remember, the deadlines are by a certain time – submit early to accommodate your own schedule.

Final Drafts of Essays 1 & 2 may be submitted up to one week after the due date, however they will be downgraded one full letter grade, and you will not have the benefit of peer review. Late essays may not be revised. Turning in an essay late may mean that you do not receive feedback in a timely manner in order to apply it to your next assignment. Essay 3 may only be submitted one day late, but will be downgraded one letter grade—the end of the semester comes quickly, and I need to submit grades by a certain date.

Late Short Assignments / Discussion / Forum responses will not receive credit.

Tests are due by a certain date and time. You are responsible for meeting the deadline.

Withdrawal Dates

You may officially withdraw at the Registrar's Office up until Dec. 9th. Any student who stops participating and submitting work and has a failing average, but does not officially withdraw, will receive a grade of F for the course. Withdrawal grades may have a negative impact on financial aid and academic progress. Please see an advisor before you withdraw.

UF (unearned F): This notation is awarded to students who were enrolled in a course, did not officially withdraw, but who failed to participate in course activities through the end of the term.

When saved on the grade roster, this notation will immediately convert to a regular grade of F on the student's transcript. It will be punitive and count in the GPA.

Religious Holy Days

from the TRCC Handbook:

Students have an obligation to notify their instructor in a timely manner regarding anticipated absences for religious observances (....) students may be required to request accommodations during the first week of an academic semester or within a prescribed period of time before the anticipated absence. Requests should be make in writing stating the reason of the request (...) the religious observance that poses the conflict and the date or dates of such holiday.

Classroom Decorum

In an online class, students are expected to follow the guidelines for respect of the College community as outlined in the TRCC Handbook:

students are expected to: Demonstrate respect for the College community by acting in accordance with published Board policies and College rules and regulations, demonstrate respect for the property for the College, demonstrate academic integrity, demonstrate respect for others, be truthful in all matters, comply with the directions of the College staff members, refrain from the unauthorized possession or use of weapons or dangerous instruments, refrain from knowingly possessing using, transferring, selling or being under the influence of any controlled substance, refrain from any unauthorized use of electronic or other devices to make an audio or video record of any person, and to conduct oneself in a civil and respectful manner, both within and outside the College.

Academic Integrity & Plagiarism

Students are expected to be honest in all academic work. Plagiarism means claiming of credit for work that is not your own, original work. Plagiarism is a serious offense and can result in failure of the assignment, and / or failure of the class, and / or a report to the administration and action such as suspension, expulsion, or notation on your permanent record. See the TRCC handbook for the policies on Academic Integrity:

"Academic integrity is essential to a useful education. Failure to act with academic integrity severely limits a person's ability to succeed in the classroom and beyond. Furthermore, academic dishonesty erodes the legitimacy of every degree awarded by the College. In this class and in the course of your academic career, present only your best work; clearly document the sources of the material you use from others; and act at all times with honor."

The work that you submit for this class must be your own written work, in your own words and writing. Please read pages 1699-1700 in our textbook about avoiding plagiarism.

Notice: In this course, we will make use of SafeAssign; it is a tool that detects work that is not original. Please read the following from the college:

ANTI-PLAGIARISM DETECTION SOFTWARE

SafeAssign, TurnItIn or other anti-plagiarism detection software products may be used in this course. Anti-plagiarism detection software products assist faculty and students in preventing and detecting plagiarism. Professors may utilize such software in order to check the originality of the academic work students submit in a course by comparing submitted papers to those contained in its database consisting of submitted papers and other sources. Anti-plagiarism detection software returns an "originality report" for each submission. The report is limited in scope to merely identifying passages that are not original to the author of the submitted work and which may include correctly cited quotations and information. Professors and students must carefully review such reports. No adverse action may be taken by a professor with respect to a student solely on the basis of an originality report which indicates the potential for plagiarism.

In this course you may be asked to submit your academic papers and other creative work containing personally identifiable information for originality reporting. By doing so, your work along with personally identifiable information will be retained in the product database and may be subsequently reported out containing your personally identifiable information not only to your professor, but also to professors of other universities and colleges within Connecticut State Colleges and Universities (CSCU) as part of subsequent originality reports.

You may decline to submit your work for originality reporting. If so, you must be provided an alternative method in which to submit your work. However, your professor, after removing your personally identifying information, may nonetheless submit limited portions of your academic work for originality reporting.

Disabilities:

If you have a disability that may affect your progress in this course, please meet with a Disability Service Provider (DSP) as soon as possible. Please note that accommodations cannot be provided until you provide written authorization from a DSP.

Digication Statements for all TRCC Syllabi:

All students are required to maintain an online learning portfolio using a TRCC designed template. Through this electronic tool, students can see their own growth in college-wide learning. The student can keep and continue to use the Digication account after graduation. A Three Rivers General Education Assessment Team will select random works to improve the college experience for all. No names will be attached to the assessment work; it will remain private and anonymous for college improvement purposes. In class outlines, students will find recommended assignments which support various college-wide learning abilities. The student will have a tool which can integrate their learning from the classroom, school, and life and allow for another opportunity of learning at TRCC! Students will be able to make multiple portfolios.

Contacting the Instructor:

I can be contacted through Messages on our Blackboard site, but please remember that you may not get an immediate response. Also, remember that written communications with me are formal communications and should use the conventions of standard written English.

Email

Messages will usually be sent to you via the internal Message program in Blackboard. I may occasionally need to send you an email through MyComm-- please be sure you have updated your email address with the college.
