Prerequisites:
Consent of the instructor is required for enrollment in this course. Consent is usually given if students have completed ENG 094 or have achieved a satisfactory placement test score. Students who have successively passed ENG 101 are not given consent.
PLEASE NOTE: STUDENTS MUST EARN A GRADE OF C OR BETTER IN ORDER TO MEET THE PREQUISITE FOR ENG 101.

Course Description:
This course emphasizes the close relationship between writing and critical reading. Reading assignments will include contemporary and classical writers. Compositions will be assigned in response to the reading. This course is in preparation for ENG K101 and other courses requiring critical reading, writing, and thinking skills. This course is not open to students who have completed ENG K101.

Learning Outcomes:
Upon successful completion of ENG 100, students should be able to:
- Recognize types of essays
- Recognize and use common thought patterns in reading and writing
- Formulate logical inferences
- Recognize and use figurative language
- Use prior knowledge to defend their interpretations of an author’s purpose and intended audience
- Recognize how words can make positive or negative impressions on the reader and use this tool in their own writing
- Summarize written material
- Extend their reading and writing vocabularies
- Use reading and writing strategies
- Recognize the connection between the reading and writing process
- Generate an outline
- Defend their assessments of the accuracy and value of what is being read
- Employ effective revision strategies

SYLLABUS-THEMATIC/RHETORICAL APPROACH:
This syllabus is organized primarily around a thematic approach; however, included with each theme is a rhetorical mode that the essays on the theme illustrate. Of course, I may modify the syllabus by deleting the rhetorical introductions and supplementing the units with additional selections (by professional or student writers) on the theme for each week.

- Additional reading will be discussed and determined.

Course Requirements:
I. Preparation, attendance and participation
Students are required to be prepared before coming to class, attend class regularly, and actively participate in discussion. Only legitimate excuses are accepted. If you have to miss a class, you are required to provide proof of cause and you should return to class with all assignments completed. An extensive number of absences will result in an “F” grade.

II. Reading and Writing Assignments
All assignments should be completed in a timely manner. Deadlines are strictly followed. No late papers or assignments will be accepted unless dire circumstances exist, this accommodates you and I for the betterment of your future success, I want you to do well, that is why I am here.
Academic Honesty:
Academic dishonesty shall in general mean conduct which has as its intent or effect the false representation of a student’s academic performance, including but not limited to (a) cheating on an examination, (b) collaborating with others in work to be presented, contrary to the stated rules of the course, (c) plagiarizing, including the submission of others’ ideas or papers (whether purchased, borrowed or otherwise obtained) as one’s own, (d) stealing or having unauthorized access to examination or course materials, (e) falsifying records of laboratory or other data, (f) submitting, if contrary to the rules of the course, work previously presented in another course, and (g) knowingly and intentionally assisting another student in any of the above, including assistance submitted or performed by a person other than the student under whose name the work is submitted or performed.

Cell Phones:
Students are notified that cellular phones and beepers are allowed in class or in the Learning Resource Center only if they are turned off or turned to a silent mode. Under no circumstances are phones to be answered in class. When there are extenuating circumstances that require that a student be available by phone or beeper, the student should speak to the instructor prior to class, so that together they can arrive at an agreement.

Disabilities Statement:
If you are a student with a disability and believe you will need accommodations for this class, it is your responsibility to contact Disabilities Counseling Services at 383-5240. To avoid any delay in the receipt of accommodations, you should contact the counselor as soon as possible. Please note that I cannot provide accommodations based upon disability until I have received an accommodation letter from the Disabilities Counselor. Your cooperation is appreciated.

College Withdrawal Policy:
A student who finds it necessary to discontinue a course once class has met must provide written notice to the Registrar. Withdrawal forms are available at the Registrars on all campuses. Non punitive “W” grades are assigned to any withdrawal requested before various unrestricted withdrawal deadlines listed in the calendars published in front of each session’s course listings. Withdrawal requests received after these deadlines must bear instructor’s signatures. No withdrawals are permitted after the last class preceding the final exam. Students who do not obtain an official withdrawal, but simply stop attending classes, run the risk of receiving an “F” grade for the course.
