Course description: This course is designed to give students an introduction to news writing. Students receive practice in writing hard news, feature stories, and editorials, as well as editorial decision-making. Word processing instruction is included. No previous experience necessary. COM* K121 meets the computer literacy requirement

Course outcomes:

Upon successful completion of this course, students should be able to:

1. Demonstrate an awareness and ability to discuss current events.
2. Demonstrate ability to exercise news judgment.
3. Write a publishable, basic news story that includes a strong lead, nut graph, proper attribution, diverse sources, and good use of quotes, among other aspects.

Course objectives:

Students will be exposed to various storytelling techniques that have universal, practical applications across multiple platforms even in this time of revolutionary change in news presentation. Students should seek to achieve/learn the following objectives:

1. Learn to brainstorm strong, interesting story ideas.
2. Develop note-taking, interviewing and reporting skills.
3. Develop news writing skills that includes special attention to accuracy.

4. Learn to thoroughly self-edit.

Concepts to remember during entire course:

- Do NOT write in first person
- One or two sentences per paragraph
- Tell-a-friend technique
- Show don't tell
- Two basic kinds of leads
- Attribution creates authority/credibility.

Recap

In class: Reflection paper

Required Text: Journalism, Who, What, When, Where, Why and How, by James Glen Stovall.

Attendance: Attendance is mandatory. Three unexcused absences will result in the loss of a letter grade on your final grade.

Grades: Assignments are due the following week. There is no mid-term or final exam. Your grade: Of your grade, five quizzes are 25 percent, in-class assignments and class participation are 25 percent, 10 out-of-class assignments are 25 percent, and the final story, including draft and story budget, is 25 percent.

Misc: No eating or drinking in class. Assignments must be typed and double spaced. I do not have office hours, but e-mail or call for help, or request help on class days. If there is a cancellation, I will e-mail the class.

Academic Integrity: Academic integrity is essential to a useful education. Failure to act with academic integrity severely limits a person's ability to succeed in the classroom and beyond. Furthermore, academic dishonesty erodes the legitimacy of every degree awarded by the College. In this class and in the course of your academic career, present only your own best work; clearly document the sources of the material you use from others; and act at all times with honor.

PLAGIARISM:

Plagiarism is the unacknowledged use of another person's work or ideas in your writing. It is often known as copying word for word. However, even paraphrasing without acknowledgement or using the ideas of peers garnered from class discussion or study groups is considered plagiarism. Whether it is conscious or unconscious, plagiarism is a serious academic offense. Your writing for this course, and any other course at TRCC, is expected to be original, the product of your own thinking. A student who has plagiarized will receive a ZERO on that assignment, and will be reported to both the academic dean and student services dean where disciplinary action may be taken.
