Course Description

This course provides an introduction to the history of art from prehistory through the mid-15th century from a global perspective. Major works in many media including painting, sculpture, and architecture will be covered. By the end of the course, students will have a visual vocabulary with which they can intelligently discuss and write about works of art. Regardless of whether the work is accessible and easy to admire or difficult and not readily understood, students will understand how to evaluate works of art not only for their beauty, but for other intrinsic values such as power of expression and boldness of communication. Outside readings and papers are required.

Course Outcomes:

Upon successful completion of this course students should:

Be able to speak and write about visual art using an informed visual vocabulary.

Be able to demonstrate familiarity with the basic elements of a work of art.

Be able to demonstrate familiarity with many art mediums.

Be able to evaluate works of art objectively, both for their formal qualities and for other qualities such as expression of emotions and communication of ideas.

Be able to articulate an appreciation and find merit in challenging works of art that they may have dismissed previous to taking the course.

Be able to identify the characteristics of the major periods and movements covered in the course and to be able to place a work of art in its appropriate time period and historical context.

Instructional Materials

2) Notebook

Evaluation Procedures

A mid-term exam and a final exam will be given.

Readings from the text will be assigned as homework followed by in-class lectures accompanied by image and/or video presentations with class discussions on that material. Along with the weekly readings, one-page essays will be due which will address an assigned question. The essay will be a two-page essay based on a visit to a museum or gallery.

Oral Presentations researched and prepared by students working in pairs on a selected chapter topic will be required.

Class Discussion

Students are expected to be in class with a positive attitude. Participating in class discussions is to everyone's benefit. Those who participate often receive a higher grade in this area. Students should expect to spend a minimum of one hour in preparation for each class hour and to attend each class so that participation is maximized.

Course Requirements

Attendance—Please plan to attend all classes and to miss class only for extenuating circumstances.

Tardiness/Leaving Early—Class announcements are generally made either at the beginning or end of class. Students who arrive late to class or leave early will not only miss hearing important information, but also are disruptive to the rest of the class, as the instructor may have to repeat information.

Deadlines—Homework Essays not completed on time will be lowered one increment for each class it is late (i.e., a /+ becomes a /). With regard to quizzes, students have two weeks to make-up a missed quiz or to make other plans with the instructor. Failure to complete homework essays or quizzes results in a grade of zero.

Academic Dishonesty

Academic Dishonesty shall in general mean conduct which has as its intent or effect the false representation of a student's academic performance, including by not limited to (a) cheating on an examination, (b) collaborating with others in work to be presented, contrary to the stated rules of the course, (c) plagiarizing, including the submission of others' ideas or papers (whether purchased, borrowed, or otherwise obtained) as one's own, (d) stealing or having unauthorized access to examination or course materials, (e) falsifying records of laboratory or other data, (f) submitting, if contrary to the rules of a course work previously presented in another course, and (g) knowingly and intentionally assisting another student in any if the above, including assistance in an arrangement whereby any work, classroom performance, examination or other activity is submitted or performed by a person other than the student under whose name the work is submitted or performed.

Cell Phones

Cell phones and beepers are allowed in class only if they are turned OFF or on SILENT MODE. Under no circumstances are phones to be answered in class. When there are extenuating circumstances that require that a student be available by phone or beeper, the student should speak to the instructor prior to class, so that together they can arrive at an agreement.

Revisions to Syllabus

The information contained in this syllabus is subject to revision at the discretion of the instructor. Students will be notified of any changes that are made.

College Withdrawal Policy

A student who finds it necessary to discontinue a course once class has met, must provide written notice to the Registrar. Withdrawal forms are available at the Registrars on all campuses. Nonpunitive “W” grades are assigned to any withdrawal requested before the various restricted withdrawal deadlines listed in the calendar published in the front of each session’s course listings. Withdrawal requests received after these deadlines must bear the instructor signatures. No withdrawals are permitted after the last class preceding the final exam. Students who do not obtain an official withdrawal, but simply stop attending classes run the risk of receiving an “F” grade for the course.

Disabilities Statement

If you have a hidden or visible disability which may require classroom or test-taking modification, please see the instructor as soon as possible. Students with learning disabilities should contact Chris Scarborough at the Student Development Office. Student with physical disabilities should contact Judy Hilburge.
